

Super Force Signals (SFS) is a quality newsletter operated by Morris Hubbartt.

I recommend SFS because Morris understands what physical gold is as an asset, and he only buys price weakness and only sells price strength.

Morris is a strong believer in vastly smaller government, and is arguably fast becoming the best technician in the gold community. He calls most market turns very accurately.

SFS is a team player in my long term plan to build a competitive force to compete against the banksters, while maintaining the highest level of professionalism in regards to making his subscribers money.
